Selectmen support hiring sheriff's dept. for police protection

The Bethel Board of Selectmen Monday night unanimously voted in favor of contracting with the sheriff's department for police protection this coming fiscal year. (The fiscal year begins July 1.) There was no discussion on the issue, although the selectmen have discussed the matter in the past.

The selectmen's recommendation will appear on the Town Meeting warrant article concerning the police protection budget. Two articles appear on the warrant: one for continued local law enforcement; the other for contracting with the county for law enforcement. Both measures should cost taxpayers approximately the same ($40,000) and both should provide the same degree of protection, the selectmen have said.

In other action, the selectmen agreed to gratefully accept a new aluminum flag pole for the Common to replace the old wooden pole. The Munda-Alien Post #1.

Nomination papers due next Tuesday

Candidates who desire to appear on the ballot in Bethel's annual municipal election on Monday, June 8, have until 5 p.m. next Tuesday, May 5, to return completed nomination petitions to the town office according to Merton Brown Jr., town clerk.

This year Bethel voters will be electing two assessors, two selectmen, and two members of SAD #44 board of directors, all for three year terms.

The following incumbents' terms are expiring this year: Assessors Patricia C. Doon and Robert Stevens; Selectmen Patricia C. Doon and Arlan Jodrey; and SAD #44 Directors Alvin Barth and John K. Brown. As of late Tuesday afternoon only Patricia C. Doon had obtained nomination papers (for assessor and selectman) at the town office.

Any registered Bethel voter interested in running for town office may obtain nomination petitions at the town office during normal business hours: Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. To appear on the ballot candidates must secure the signatures of at least 25, and not more than 75, registered Bethel voters. (The voter may sign only as many nomination petitions as there are vacancies: two assessors, two selectmen, and two members of the SAD #44 board.)

May 1, all plastic flowers will be removed from the cemeteries in Stoneham for maintenance purposes.

8th-grade scores on statewide test go up noticeably

The state Department of Educational and Cultural Services this week released the results of the statewide testing of 8th-grade students. The scores of Bethel's 8th-grade showed dramatic improvement over last year's test scores. The scores of the 8th-grade at Oxford Hills Junior High were not yet available as they had not yet been shown to the board of directors of SAD #17.

At Bethel, 68 students of the 8th-grade class took the statewide exams last November. The results were not only better than the results scored by last academic year's 8th-grade class, the results were also generally better than the statewide average of 8th-graders.

SAD #44 Superintendent of Schools Devlin Craig said it is not too meaningful to compare one year's class to another year's class because the class

Bethel tax rate expected to jump by over $2/$1,000

Bethel's tax rate is expected to increase by more than $2 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation. The current tax rate is $24.25.

The Bethel Board of Selectmen decided unanimously Monday night to use $22,000 from surplus to prevent any additional increase in the tax rate. Nevertheless, given the school and county assessments and the $774,824 municipal budget approved by the Budget Committee and accepted by the selectmen, sharply increased taxes are on the horizon.

In fact, the tax increase works out to be $2.75 per $1,000, Town Manager

Planning Board denies permit for Bethel Inn's townhouses

After an hour of discussion last Wednesday night, the Bethel Planning Board denied a subdivision permit to the Bethel Inn for its proposed 40-unit Fairway Townhouses condominium development. It was the first condo project the board has turned down.

The vote, with two board members disqualifying themselves from the discussion and voting process, was 2-2. In case of a tie vote, the Planning Board rules state that the permit application will be denied.

Not taking part in the voting process was Chairman John Gray, who is an employee of P.H. Chisholm Co., which cleared the land for the project and

Inn readies appeal; Town strikes deal with DEP on sewer

In the wake of the Planning Board's denial of a subdivision permit, and in the face of the DEP warning that a tie-in of the Inn condos to the Bethel sewer would not be permitted by the state, Inn and town officials this week took the following actions:

Attorneys for The Bethel Inn were preparing an appeal to set before the town's Appeals Board. Project manager John Lahan said he thought the project had been poorly understood by a number of people in town. "These condominiums are not going to be second homes to people — they are investments and will serve as adjacent rooms for the Inn."

"If you put them further away from the Inn [such as on the Songo Pond Road side of the golf course, as has been suggested] you'd be increasing taxes on the Inn."

In fact, the tax increase works out to be $2.75 per $1,000, Town Manager which originally had a financial stake in the project, according to Mr. Gray. Also disqualifying himself was John Lahan, who is the Inn's project manager for the proposed subdivision.

Also missing from the critical vote was Planning Board Member Karen Brown, who was out of town on business, according to the chairman.

Voting for granting the permit were members Louis Shaw and Don Eddy. Voting against granting the permit were members Ginger Kelly and Cathy Newell.

Ms. Kelly said, "I'm still very concerned about traffic on Broad Street. Even now (without traffic from Eden Ridge yet) at five o'clock it's a zoo. Down the road we're going to be sorry we're putting more traffic on Broad Street."

The issue of traffic, and the access road from Broad Street into the project, were hot issues when the project was presented at a public hearing a month ago. The hearing was attended by a standing-room only crowd in the Teltar lecture hall.

Ms. Newell said the combination of the access road behind private residences on Broad Street, a new intersection on the street, the destruction of an old barn to

New views emerge on re-opening road between Newry rivers

It had been the selectmen's understanding that they, along with other board members, wanted to re-open the old mountain road, which had been discontinued in 1917.

'Don't talk to me about schools'

Judging by the small turnout at the school district budget meeting a week ago—only 120 citizens showed up, and most of those were employees or families of employees of the school district—people don't want to be bothered by what's going on in their schools.

With no discussion, those who did show up for the budget meeting wasted no time in approving a $4.5 million budget, which represents a 19 percent increase over the current fiscal year budget. The largest chunk of the budget is for employee salaries and benefits (nearly 70 percent of the total budget), which increased by over 15 percent. Starting salaries for teachers—by state mandate—increased to $15,500.

It seems surprising that no one went to the district budget meeting and asked questions about the budget or about the ways in which the schools are educating, or not educating, district students. It seems all the more surprising in light of last year's turnout of over 700 district residents, who not only asked questions but also supplied their own answers, cutting the proposed budget by $400,000.

In the wake of that taxpayer revolt, the school district authorities set about to make public information and public relations a major part of their program. Researchers from the University of Maine were hired—at a cost of $5,200—to sample the opinions of district residents towards their schools. The results, while possibly representative, were disappointing in terms of numbers of respondents.

Survey questionnaires were mailed out last fall to approximately 2,100 postal patrons in SAD #44. Just 537 were returned. And of those returned, 11 percent—or 59—were from school personnel. Thus, just 478 ordinary district residents were interested enough in the district schools to voice an opinion.

The opinions expressed can be summed up as follows: 43 percent of those who mailed in the postage-paid questionnaires (including the 59 school personnel) said they were satisfied with the schools, while 29 percent said they were not. Although 79 percent of the respondents said teachers were doing a good job, the majority of respondents—64 percent—did not think district schools were any better than average.

Respondents were generally more positive about the staffs at the grade schools than at the middle school or high school.

On the question of funding local schools, 43 percent of the respondents—including the opinions of the 11 percent who are school personnel—felt the district schools don't get enough money, while 34 percent said they do receive enough money; 13 percent said they receive too much money. In general, respondents said they would prefer spending more on police protection than on schools.

Respondents generally felt they didn't know enough about curriculum to comment on it, but many expressed the view that there was not enough attention paid in the curricula to reading, writing and oral communication.

While respondents were generally in favor of merit pay for teachers, when teachers were questioned separately about that issue, they were overwhelmingly against the idea. On the other hand, faculty generally felt teacher pay was too low.

When high school students and graduates were questioned about their school experience, they were generally pleased with it, but over 40 percent complained about the lack of school spirit at Telstar.

The researchers recommended that the SAD #44 Board of Directors must do a better job of communicating with district citizens the district's academic program and expectations. And this the board has been attempting to do this year, especially by inviting more input into the budgeting process.

But the big question is still whether district citizens are seriously interested in their schools or simply interested in how much money it will cost them to run the schools.

Whereas last year people rose up in rebellion when the school board proposed increasing local assessments up to 50 percent, this year citizens slumbered when told that the 19 percent budget increase would cause the local share of the budget to go up only 6 percent.

A good school system takes money, of course. But it also requires citizen interest and pride in the school system, and concern for how the money is being spent. From the available evidence, SAD #44 still has a long way to go in achieving this goal. While the grade schools have active parent-teacher groups, parental interest at the middle school and high school levels diminishes markedly. Ways must be found to involve parents—and the citizenry in general—in the schools, especially at Telstar. Only through active involvement will district citizens feel a real concern for their schools. bfw

From Augusta

Small business is the driving force behind the Maine economy. In fact 98 percent of all Maine business is small business. Eighty percent of all Maine businesses have payrolls listing 20 or less employees. The key to economic growth is providing these small businesses with the resources they need to succeed.

For many of our businesses, access to capital on reasonable terms is a major obstacle. In fact, in a survey of more than 3,000 Maine businesses, 70 percent indicated that the lack of a fixed rate, long term financing was a major hindrance to their start-up and expansion plans.

L.D. 915 An Act to Establish the Maine Business Opportunity and Job Development Program could provide many businesses with the resources they need to move their ideas from the drawing board into action. While providing affordable capital to businesses for start-up and expansion needs, this program would create meaningful incentives for businesses to locate and invest in areas of the state which are economically depressed. It would preserve and create permanent private sector jobs and would contribute substantially to the tax base of Maine communities.

L.D. 915 authorizes a bond issue in the amount of $5,000,000 for the purpose of providing funds to establish the Maine Business Opportunity and Job Development Fund. The fund would provide a nonlapsing fund held and administered by the Finance Authority of Maine to provide financial assistance and leveraging private investment money for Maine business and job development. Repayment of loans to the authority would be deposited in the Maine Business Opportunity and Job Development Fund which could maintain a pool of capital to assist small businesses over future years.

By allowing a Maine business to borrow up to $250,000 in matching funds for their expansion or start-up needs, the first five years of the program would be expected to assist between 30-50 Maine firms and create 500-700 new jobs. As Maine legislators it is our responsibility to create an environment in which economic expansion and entrepreneurial spirit can flourish. The Maine Business Opportunity and Job Development Program should be seriously considered by the 113th legislature.

—Senator R. Donald Twitchell
District Five

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The Bethel Recreation Committee would like to take this opportunity to thank the many people and organizations who helped make this year's winter program so successful.

Many thanks to The Only Place and SAD #44 for providing the areas for our skating rinks. Special thanks to those individuals who volunteered so many hours to build, flood, plow and maintain the rinks throughout the winter. Those people include Bob and Gary Pilgrim, Burnie Rice, Dave Luxton, and the Bethel Fire Department.

Finally, we would like to thank The Bethel Inn and the Sunday River Ski Touring Center for the use of their trails for the recreational cross country ski program for Crescent Park children.

To the Editor:

For the first time, to my knowledge, SAD #44 has charged for the use of two buses to transport grade school children to the Shrine Circus in Lewiston. As usual, the Oxford County Shrine Club supplied drivers and chaperones.

I am appealing to the many Bethel Shriners for small donations to cover this cost.

Many thanks.

To the Editor:

WCBB, Channel 10, is celebrating its 25th year this year and, as part of this celebration, is making a special effort to respond to the needs of the viewing area. In an effort to reduce the amount of airtime devoted to raising money for the purchase of the excellent Channel 10 programs, Channel 10 is working to raise funds in other ways. The Member-Get-A-Member campaign is about to be launched in the Bethel area, and will work, between May 5 and May 15, to significantly raise the number of members from our area.

Some of the non-members may wonder why it is necessary to "pay" for Channel 10 when they already pay for cable, etc. WCBB is public television and all of the wonderful shows on Channel 10 must be purchased by WCBB. Funding comes from a variety of sources—but not from commercial advertising. Only one out of seven viewers of Channel 10 currently contributes to the station, and quite a bit of air time, which could be devoted to programming, must be used for pledge week activities. A group of Bethel-area WCBB members is undertaking a special project to expand the membership from this area. If the effort is successful here, other such campaigns will happen in other towns, and the goal of reducing on-air pledge time will be achieved.

The Bethel area Member-Get-A-Member campaign will begin on May 5 at a tea and briefing at the Moses Mason House, at 9 p.m. If you are a member who is willing to help, or if you are a non-member who would like to join, come to the tea and hear about all the exciting new programs in the works at Channel 10. Don't wait to be called if you know how much Channel 10 means to your family—just call me, at 824-2780, or 824-2089, or Stan Howe, at 824-2908, and let us know that you want to help keep public television thriving.

Rotary Club notes

The Bethel Rotary Club held its regular meeting at Martha's Restaurant on Tuesday, April 28.

Guests joining with the group this week were Robin Zinchuk, director of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce; Cecelia Hoy, Bethel Savings Bank; and Barbara D. Brown, Casco Northern Bank.

On a special occasion the usual effort of job of selling raffle tickets, and came up with a new winner, Ray Harrington carried away the loot.

Rotary information was presented by Rodney Lynch. Rodney talked about the District Conference to be held at the Balsams. The need of items for the auction which is a fund raiser, was the main thrust of the information.

President Dave Presbabe made several announcements. Included among them was information on the Spanish Student Exchange Program. The host family phase of the program was discussed. Upcoming fund-raising programs were announced. A car wash fronted by Bruce Powell, a dinner by Dwayne Craig, a bike-a-thon by Scott Dennis, and other programs are in the works. More information will be forthcoming on these projects.

The program chairman for the meeting was John Elliot. His guest speaker was John Arnold, CMP Public Affairs Department, Nuclear Power-Maine Yankee. Mr. Arnold did a masterful job of discussing the generation and co-generation of electric power in Maine. The cost of producing power with the existing nuclear power plant at Wiscasset vs. the cost without the plant, was highlighted. A negative impact on Maine industry would be created with the elimination of nuclear power because of greatly increased cost of producing electrical power by other means and sources.

Based on the many questions asked of the speaker in regard to Maine Yankee, it is apparent that a strong, concerned interest in regards to the production of electrical energy by nuclear power and the disposition of high and low level nuclear waste is clearly evident. This was a great program, very well enjoyed by everyone.

County Democrats attend testimonial for Sen. Ed Muskie

Edmund S. Muskie, former United States senator and secretary of state, was honored at a testimonial dinner at the American Legion Hall in Rumford last Saturday, April 25.

Organized by the Oxford County Democratic Committee, the dinner was described as "A Salute to Senator Muskie" and featured remarks by many prominent Democrats. Senator Muskie, a native of Rumford, and his wife Jane expressed their delight at seeing so many old friends and being so warmly welcomed.

Dennis Gray, of Norway, chairman of the Oxford County Democratic Committee, was master of ceremonies and began the program by introducing current and former legislators and party leaders in attendance. Legislators attending were State Senator Ed Erwin (Rumford), Rep. Phyllis Erwin (Rumford), Rep. Francis Perry (Mexico), and Rep. Jeff Mills (Bethel). Former legislators included Emily Saunders, of Bethel, Mike Thurston, of Bethel, Albert Theriault, of Rumford, Severin Bellevue, of Augusta, Peter Mills, of Farmington, and Richard Davies, of Orono. Former county committee chairmen attending were: Paul McGuire, of Bethel, Douglas Myers, of Paris, and Severin Bellevue, Former Judge of Probate Albert Bellevue, of Rumford, and former Register of Probate, Bill Haynes, of Waterford, were in attendance. County Commissioners Reginald "Butch" Guay and Norman K. Ferguson were introduced, as were National Committeewoman Ruth Moss, of Sorrento, and Democratic Party Executive Director Sue Ellen Bordwell.

Rep. Mills presented the Olive B. Moore Award for Distinguished Service for 1987 to Catherine Newell, of Bethel. The annual award was created to honor Oxford County's former Register of Deeds and current selectman from Paris, Olive Moore.

Severin Bellevue led off the program of speakers reminding about his involvement with Sen. Muskie's senatorial, vice-presidential and presidential campaigns.

The evening was also a homecoming for Mr. Bellevue, a Rumford native, who has served the Maine Democratic Party in many capacities, including national committeeman. He was followed on the program by Speaker of the House John Martin, of Eagle Lake, who spoke of Sen. Muskie's influence on a generation of elected officials, and of his recent service on the Tower Commission.

Attorney General Jim Tierney took the occasion to thank Oxford County Democrats for their support and work in his gubernatorial campaign last fall, as well as to remark on the inspiration Sen. Muskie's career offers to Maine Democrats.

U.S. Senator George Mitchell introduced Sen. Muskie with a thoughtful review of the senator's career, emphasizing the stature he had achieved throughout the nation and the world. He highlighted Sen. Muskie's accomplishments in the field of environmental legislation, remarking that the former senator was the author of virtually every piece of significant legislation concerning the clean-up of the nation's air and water.

In addressing the crowd of 150, many of whom had grown up with him in Rumford and Mexico, Sen. Muskie offered a nostalgic accounting of his entry into public service, commenting that he had not been an outgoing leader as a youth in Rumford, and that his early political career had been characterized by almost reluctant commitments to run for office, which he viewed at the time as temporary. However, as he began to serve the people of Maine at each level of elected office, he found great satisfaction in his service. He commented that since leaving public life, he and Mrs. Muskie have missed the opportunity to travel throughout the state regularly, and thus missed renewing old friendships, and that the present occasion meant a great deal to both of them.

The evening concluded with the presentation of a gift to Senator and Mrs. Muskie by Scott Currie, of Christian Ridge Pottery, in Paris, on behalf of the county committee. The commemorative plate, especially crafted for the presentation, included a chickadee and pine tree design, surrounded by the inscription "Edmund S. Muskie—Statesman." Ray Harrington, of Greenwood, presented the senator with a picture taken during one of Muskie's campaign visits to the area.

The planning committee for the "Salute to Senator Muskie" included Dennis and Marcy Gray, Cathy Newell, Jeff Mills, Butch Guay, Ed and Phyllis Erwin and Pauline Goudreau. Music was provided by Peter McManus, of Porter.

To the Editor:

To the family of Eleanor C. "Boots" Morton:

Occasionally, but not often enough, a person comes into our lives who shows us how to rise above life's meanness. One of life's joys is that one never knows when or where one will experience that kind of inspiration. Who would have expected that so many of us here at Gould Academy would find it in one who served us every day in our dining hall? Though she would have scoffed at the nation, Boots was a great teacher. Her subject area, which seems deceptively simple, was a positive attitude toward life, and she mastered it. We miss Boots Morton.

Bill Clough, Headmaster

To the Editor:

In defense of the Bryants, past and present: "Perhaps a clearing was made on this territory even before the Bryants came to the west part, by Walton and Hutchinson, who built log huts and wintered here, in which case they were really the first settlers in town. If this is true, which is by no means certain, they did not remain long, and the Bryants have always been regarded as the first permanent settlers." (From W.B. Lapham "History of Woodstock, Maine")

We all form and make our own opinions, but we usually exercise our intelligence in arriving at such based upon the facts pertaining to given situations. We are fortunate to have our history books otherwise we would founder in forming our decisions. Until facts and proof are rendered that indeed the Bryants were not the first permanent settlers of Woodstock, I will continue to regard myself as a direct descendant of the true forefathers of Woodstock and will instill this belief within my daughter. This is my heritage and I fully resent anyone questioning my ancestry.

Actress Jayne Kennedy to be guest speaker at annual Chamber dinner

The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual awards banquet at The Bethel Inn on Friday, May 15.

Guest speaker will be TV actress Jayne Kennedy, who will fly in from Los Angeles for the evening. Although she and husband Bill Overton spend much of their time in L.A., New York and Boston, they also have a home in Sumner and recently joined the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce. This came about after they set up Marathon Development Co., which is the owner and developer of Lake Christopher Condominiums, in Bryant Pond.

At the banquet, the chamber membership will elect officers for the coming year.

The banquet will also be a time for honoring deserving citizens and businesses with awards for excellence and achievement during the past year. Among the awards to be presented will be the coveted Henry Hastings Award, the business award and the senior citizen award.

Cocktails will be served starting at 6 p.m. at The Bethel Inn, with the banquet beginning at 7 p.m.

Tickets are on sale at the chamber office or from chamber directors and at several Main Street, Bethel, locations. Or you can call The Bethel Inn to make reservations.

Ticket prices are $25 per couple or $13 per person.

Boise signs agreement with CMP on cogeneration

Boise Cascade signed a purchase and sale agreement with Central Maine Power this week for electricity to be generated by a cogeneration facility proposed for Boise Cascade's Rumford paper mill.

Under the agreement, Boise will sell all of the electricity generated by the proposed 75,000 kilowatt wood/coal facility to CMP for a 15-year period beginning in 1991. It will also produce one million pounds of steam per hour for use in the paper mill.

CMP's board of directors approved the agreement at their regular meeting April 22. It is still subject to the approval of Boise Cascade's board of directors and the actual project, estimated to cost $150 million, will not begin until Boise has successfully secured all necessary financing.

"The project will enhance the long-term operation and efficiency of our Rumford mill," said Boise spokesman Gary Guilmond. "The new wood/coal boiler will help us avoid purchasing about 630,000 barrels of imported oil per year and will improve the air quality of the Rumford area by reducing sulfur dioxide emissions by 35 percent and particulate matter by 61 percent," he added.

The project will consist of two circulating fluidized bed boilers firing a combination of wood and coal. It will also include two turbine generators and all related fuel handling, pollution control and auxiliary equipment.

Bethel Tax Rate

Rodney Lynch told the selectmen, even with the generous use of surplus funds to offset taxation.

(The Budget Committee succeeded in trimming another $19,000 from the budget proposed by the selectmen. The selectmen's budget had been pegged at $793,603; they had removed a number of items from the town manager's original proposal, which had come in at $829,075.)

The assessors pointed out that new houses and condos, and new equipment in some of the mills should add nearly $1 million to the town's valuation this year. This should bring the tax increase down to about $2 per $1,000, they said.

They also predicted a large jump in assessed valuation next year, as the prospective condo developments appear on the tax rolls. This year, only the River View Motel will appear on the rolls. Next fiscal year, Carriage House, Eden Ridge, Bethel Inn Fairway Townhouses, and Mill Brook Estates may all be completed.

WCBB members to meet

There will be an important meeting of WCBB members in Bethel, at the Moses Mason meeting room, on Tuesday, May 5, at 3 p.m., for a briefing on special events and new programming planned by Channel 10, and to celebrate the station's 25th year. The meeting will be hosted by Cathy Newell and Stan Howe and will serve as the kick-off event for the Bethel area Member-Get-A-Member campaign.

According to Maureen Gaudreau, spokeswoman for Channel 10, the Bethel event is the first in a series of such happenings around the Channel 10 viewing area designed to enlist the membership in making it possible for the station to reduce on-air pledging and providing more time for programming. "This is the opportunity to hear first-hand from station personnel about what WCBB is planning for special events."

Ms. Newell, who chaired the successful effort in 1984 to raise the local share of funds for WCBB's translator tower in Bethel, and Stan Howe, who is currently featured on Channel 10's on-air promotion for the Member-Get-A-Member campaign, are heading up the local effort to increase the number of Channel 10 members in the Bethel area.

The meeting on May 5 will launch the drive, with a tea, in addition to the briefing by Channel 10 personnel. The membership activities will be conducted during the period May 5 to May 15. Current Channel 10 members are encouraged to attend the tea, as are prospective members. Any member who would like to help with the campaign or the tea should contact Cathy Newell at 824-2780 or 824-2089, or Stan Howe, at 824-2908.

As I raked away the leaves from my garden this April afternoon I noticed something fragile and spring-like. My transplanted Dutchman's Breeches, whose heart-shaped blossoms usually nod from ledges, were in bloom. Because of its firmly closed petals one would suppose it is guarded against intrusion on the part of insect visitors; but when insects are excluded no seeds are set, which proves that pollen from another flower is needed for continuance of the species.

I also found my little bluebells pert and bright-eyed. These gave me courage and made my work easier.

Not only were these flowers out but so was the tree swallow snooping around investigating the bird houses. The favorite house each year has been the one on the corner of the garage. Then, after a pair had built their nest, the red squirrel decided to destroy it. Whenever I saw him I drove him away, but I knew which his disposition he would win. He and I had fought many battles before. Well, I took the house and I gazed goony-eyed at the interior. Not only had he destroyed the nesting material but he had replaced it with hunks (and I mean hunks) of suet. One was so large that I could not get it back through the hole. That hadn't satisfied him, so he had carried in ROCKS! There were five of them and all different sizes. Unbelievable! But who else?

When it comes to swallows I suppose it's a sacrilege for a person like me to try to tell about them. Their bodies are sleek silkiness, their flight graceful, so much so that it's like wonderful music—of music, not of sound. I have only the tree swallows, for the barn swallows—my favorites—stay at the farm. When we lived there they lined up on the wires and early each morning on our bedroom windows they talked constantly in pleasant voices. I never tired of listening. They always twittered in unison.

Back to the garden. After carrying away my leaves, I left and was glad to enter my house and rest while I listened to the "conk-er-ee" of the blackbirds

From Hawaii to Michigan to Massachusetts, Cape Cod to Seattle, Kodiak Islands, to Tok, Alaska, and now to LaMoure, North Dakota, Melvin Pulsifer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Pulsifer, of Greenwood City, has traveled many miles serving in the U.S. Coast Guard, since being commissioned as a warrant officer in August 1975. He joined the Coast Guard in April 1959.

Melvin and wife Josephine and two daughters, Adele and Catherine, came to LaMoure, where he took over duties as new commander of Omega Coast Guard Station. The change-of-command ceremony is a time-honored tradition and was held on Feb. 5, 1987.

He has a very interesting background in his line of service.

His parents and sister went to LaMoure to celebrate the 25th wedding anniversary of Melvin and Josephine.

Gilead

By LOUISE LORING

Still in the aftermath of the great flood of '87, unusual stories are beginning to surface. An interesting report of this kind, was reported to me by Cynthia Mason, a while ago.

It seems that her son, Alden, took his vehicle out for a spin to test its prowess in the flood waters, heading north on Route 2. As he approached the red buildings below town here, he noticed a stranded auto in danger of becoming inundated. Making his way across the now rushing river, he proceeded into town, and at Big Ed's, he found the owner waiting for the waters to recede. Alden offered to take the man home with him, and this they did, after first towing the auto across the now raging waters. Here, in the safety of Mrs. Mason's home, the stranger himself was stranded for two days. Without power or heat, Mrs. Mason, Alden, and the stranger took refuge in their camper, keeping warm and cooking over the gas it offered. As the night drew on they all retired to the house and managed to sleep in the house. Without a word, when traveling was again possible, the stranger left them.

It wasn't until about two weeks later when Mrs. Mason arrived home from work one evening, that she found a mysterious box, sitting on her kitchen floor. When she opened it, there was a brand new expensive micro-wave oven, with a note of thanks inside, from the stranger in grateful acknowledgement of his shelter.

In this day and age, it is indeed refreshing to note that some people after all are still not afraid to be hospitable, and that the recipients are honest and thankful for the kindness shown to them. Is it not sad, that not every story ends this way?

Mrs. Elsie Bryant and Cory Childs were guests of the Gerald Loring's Easter Day.

The children in town enjoyed their week's vacation under mostly sunny skies.

Nancy Corriveau had two of her grandchildren at her home as her guests last week.

Homar Patenaude, major in the U.S. Army, and family have been the guests of his mother, Yvonne Patenaude, recently. Mrs. Patenaude is recovering at her home from a serious stroke.

Gerald Loring plowed Gerard Dupont's and Mrs. Yvonne Patenaude's gardens for them recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosaire Corriveau were at home this weekend. Mrs. Corriveau has employment now in Vermont.

Mark Cole has been spending his vacation from school at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Cole. Mary Tyler was a guest of her mother, Mary Cole, and daughter, Kathy, over this past weekend.

Scotty Pike was a guest of his mother, Kathy Sweetser, this past weekend from his studies in New Hampshire.

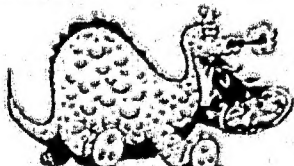

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Moulton entertained C. Cole and Doty, at Easter dinner on the 19th.

Mrs. Elmira Doyen and Mrs. Connie Hindman went to Burlington, Vt., Friday and Saturday last week to visit the Yorks. They also attended a small dinner party Friday in honor of Mr. York's 80th birthday.

Mrs. Ethel Turner and children, Sarah, Amber, David, and Jonathan Bean, and Mark and David Turner, visited here Sunday afternoon. I went back with them to Otisfield for a few days. Monday the Turners and all the children and myself drove to Unity to my brother's farm. Besides a nice visit the children enjoyed the cats, calves, swings and climbing the ladder on the outside of the silo, also a ride in Roy's 1921 Model T.

Norma Salway has been home during this vacation week but very busy on school projects. On Wednesday Norm and David picked me up and went to the Recognition Day at the University of Southern Maine, where honors and awards were presented to about 50 junior and senior students. Norma was one of the recipients.

David Salway returned to work Thursday morning after being home several days with an eye injury from a tree limb hitting him in the eye.

Hanover

By DONNA WORCESTER

A rummage and food sale will be held at the Rumford Point Church on Friday, May 1, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Coffee and doughnuts will be sold during the sale. Items for the sale may be left at the church on Thursday, April 30.

A woods fire burned about one quarter of an acre on Frank Withers' property on Route 2 Wednesday, April 22. Rumford Fire Department's Company 6 from Rumford Point with Chief Bolvin and the utility truck from Rumford along with a few Hanover volunteers put the fire out. Rev. and Mrs. Harry Conroy have been at Overlook Farm in Rutland, Mass., attending the annual meeting of Heifer Project International, Northeast Region. While they were away Sunday morning services at the Rumford Point Church were conducted by Rev. Robert H. Plummer who prior to his retirement was pastor of the Franklin Street Church in Rumford.

School vacation and extra nice weather brought out young folks all over the place during the week of April 20. There was ample opportunity for boys and girls to earn some bucks raking and cleaning up for those who needed it done. Fishing was very popular and Brian Worcester claimed to be the first one to swim on Howard Pond on the day after the ice went out.

Overnight guests of Clem Worcester were Peter J. Pease of Andover on April 21 and Miss Stacy Fortin of Rumford Center and on April 20. Upon her return home Miss Fortin left for a trip to Ellsworth.

The April Pack meeting for Cub Scout Pack 509 took place on Friday, April 24, at the Rumford Point Church. The fun filled event featured a play about outer space travel out on by the Cubs with homemade costumes and with the assistance of Den Leader Annette Beauchesse and Boy Scout Shannon Couture. District commissioner Clarence Gordon was in attendance and presented Boy Scout Troop 509 and Cub Scout Pack 509 and the Rumford Point Church with their scouting charters for 1987. Judy Mazza, Spencer and Linda Couture, Gary Gadois, Robert McPherson, and Annette Beauchesse took part in the ceremony. Mrs. Karen Milligan and Doug Timbers gave a slide presentation and description of summer camping programs for the Cub Scouts and the Boy Scouts. Games and snacks were enjoyed by everyone present.

Ben Marion. All three have made wonderful contributions to past productions at Gould.

The musical will be presented in Bingham Auditorium on Church Street, in Bethel. Admission is free, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

'Fiorello' at Gould

The lively musical "Fiorello" will be presented by Gould Academy on Friday,

May 8, and Saturday, May 9, at 8 p.m.

The production of "Fiorello" has been underway since before the students' March vacation. Director Carol Fiske and head technician Tom Ford have been working with stage manager Greg Ng and the tech crew and cast to build a flexible set, rehearsing music, dance steps and lines. The musical is at that "shaping up" stage where the people working on it can begin to see it as a whole.

The lead role of Fiorello LaGuardia will be played by Tim Bevin, a senior from Shelburne, N.H. This will be his premier performance on Gould's stage, an exciting event for the whole cast. There are other first-time performers as well. Matt Jones, of Worcester, Mass., plays the part of Fiorello's right-hand man, Neil; Eric Mader, from Martha's Vineyard, will play Morris (the left-hand man), and Heather Sparks, of Boston, will play Thea, Fiorello's wife.

Veteran performers in the cast are Cait Winn, Topsham, who can be recognized from Gould's most recent presentation, "Close Ties." Cait will be graduating this year, along with Molly Lauck, Portland, whose role is a feisty garment worker, and Jon Komlosy, Yarmouth, with the part of a politician,

Notes from the Woodstock Historical Society

Here is some information on local history from Ruby Emery.

"Now... Woodstock does not have a hotel, although the village has the Glen Mountain House, which offers bed and breakfast. This was the former Mark Allen House, built in 1918.

"The beginning of the Bryant's Pond House, or the [former] Glen Mountain House, in the village was built after 1844 and before 1851 as a farm house. Joseph Frye purchased the red farm house from Albion K.P. Whitman and moved it and after adding more rooms in 1852 he began the hotel business. Many people owned or leased the popular hotel. In 1866 the hotel and livery stable sold for $3,300, in 1874 for $4,250 and in 1883 for $2,000.

"The Glen Mountain House burned June 10, 1907 while it was owned by Irvin S. Thompson. The land was sold to George L. Stevens, the son of Ezra, the circus man."

The Society's Finance Committee is planning a 1988 calendar to sell later this year.

Thanks to the town for adding to the museum parking lot.

NEWELL RECEIVES AWARD

Catherine S.C. Newell, of Bethel, received the Olive B. Moore Award for Distinguished Service from the Oxford County Democratic Committee for 1987. The award was presented at the "Salute to Senator Muskie" dinner, held on April 25, at the American Legion Hall, in Rumford.

Mrs. Newell has served on local, county and state Democratic committees since 1972, serving as secretary of the Oxford County Committee, and as a member of the State Platform Committee in the 1970s. She is currently treasurer of the county committee.

In addition to committee responsibilities, Mrs. Newell managed the legislative campaigns of former Rep. Emily Saunders and those of Rep. Jeff Mills, and has been an active worker for many other candidates. Rep. Mills presented the award.

Political activities are a family tradition for Mrs. Newell. Her mother, Mary M. Scott-Craig, served in the New Hampshire House of Representatives and has been active for many years in politics. The church treasury was depleted some years ago and there has been no fund-raising activity since. I have been paying CMP bills but will not be doing it alone any more. Senior graduation status letters have been mailed periodically throughout the school year. Seniors are also urged to establish perfect attendance over the last remaining weeks. Poor attendance, unfortunately, causes failure in all courses.

Presently, 74 members of the Class of 1987 have established the following post-secondary plans: 19 students are planning to attend four-year colleges and universities; 13 students are planning to attend one- and two-year vocational and business schools; 12 students are waiting for acceptance news from the schools they've applied to; three students will serve in the military; 21 students will seek local or out-of-district employment; six students are still undecided about their future plans.

Hunters kill record number of bear in 1986

Numbers registered 1,954 bears killed during Maine's 1986 bear hunting season—the highest recorded kill since mandatory registrations began, in 1969. Wildlife biologist Craig McLaughlin, leader of the Fish & Game Department's bear study project, said that while the 1986 kill is considerably larger than the recent five-year average of 1,545 bears, it is well within the department's objective kill range of 1,500 to 2,500 bears.

Of those killed and registered, 1,112 were males (57 percent), 820 were females (42 percent) and 22 (1 percent) were of unreported sex. September accounted for the most bears killed (1,152, or 60 percent), while 346 bears (18 percent) were killed in October and 456 bears (22 percent) were killed in November.

Bear hunting was most popular with non-residents, who registered 1,187 bears, or 61 percent of the harvest. Biologist McLaughlin said, "Regular harvests of 1,500 to 2,500 bears are needed to attain the state's bear management goal of maintaining the bear population at its present level of about 21,000 animals."

Students will be presented

Scheduling of actual course registrations for 1987-88 will take place first for Juniors, then Sophomores, Freshmen and Grade 8 students during the weeks of May 11-15 and May 18-22. More information regarding orientations, placement and course sign-up will be available on a weekly basis. Questions may be directed to Mr. Hart at the Guidance Office (824-2138).

SAD #17 INCREASING PAY OF SUBSTITUTE TEACHERS

The SAD #17 board of directors recently voted to raise the teacher substitute rate of pay to $40 per day beginning May 4, 1987.

The board recognized the need to interest qualified people in becoming substitutes. Although the district at present has a roster of excellent substitutes, it does not have enough and it is difficult sometimes to have a qualified substitute in the classroom. The SAD #17 board is hoping that the increased compensation will attract more people. Applications are available at the SAD #17 Superintendent's Office, 2 Pine Street, South Paris. It is preferred that the substitute have four years of training, but two years of training beyond high

High Street

By VIVA WHITMAN

The sun seems to be going behind the clouds this morning, and I expect it won't be as good a day as yesterday turned out to be. Russell and I have enjoyed the bright sunny days and tried to make the most of them the best way we could. Don't suppose we can expect too many days of sunny weather in a row, but enjoy them as they come.

It seems good to see the pretty yellow jonquils in bloom now and to see how green the grass is getting. A sure sign that warmer days are to come. The bleeding heart out by the door is growing good, and out back the rhubarb is sure poking up through the mulch that Russell covered it with last fall. Russell has started planting the garden out front and has gotten in some peas and greens. They will stand quite a lot of cold and still grow, so get them in early.

Sorry to say that I haven't felt up to going to Grange lately, so have missed the meetings at West Paris a week ago, the one at South Paris on Saturday and the one at Franklin Monday night. Keep hoping whatever is wrong will pass, but it hasn't as yet, and x-rays haven't told anything either, so it keeps one guessing. If I keep losing weight I may be able to let Russell use me as a scarecrow when he gets the big garden planted up back. Have had to keep taking in clothes to fit or have them hang like bran sacks. That's the way things go sometimes.

Russell and I were invited to Lewiston last Sunday to have Easter dinner with my daughter. Didn't feel too good but knew I wouldn't feel any worse if I went so we went to have dinner, or lunch—whatever you want to call it—with my daughter and granddaughters. Kariann could hardly wait for me to get through the door before she wanted me to hold her. I told her I would have to sit down first so she ran to the living room where the rocking chair was. I stopped to talk a minute with Wynona and she started hollering for Nana to come sit down so she could climb into my lap. Courtney was right there, also, telling me that she loved me. It makes me feel good to have them give me so many hugs and kisses when I am around. They show their love for me in so many little ways and it all helps. Made the day worthwhile even if I didn't feel up to par. Russell gets his share of loving when they are around, also. They think he is the greatest.

Went to the hospital for x-rays Monday forenoon, and in the afternoon had to go get some help for my ribs that were out of place. It was quite a day. In the evening, my niece, Darnita Taylor, and her two daughters, Eva and Eriel, came to visit for a little while. She was returning clothing that Wynona had let her have to use for Eriel and also to visit. We are always glad to see her and wish she would come more often. Eriel is a year old now and cute as a button. Hope the pictures I took of her and Eva come out good.

SIMONS FINISHES INTERNSHIP

Andrew Simons, a sophomore government and German major at Colby College, in Waterville, was a January intern with Jobs for Peace, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is the son of Ute Simons, of West Paris, and a graduate of Germantown Friends School, in Philadelphia.

The Colby January Program of Independent Study is a period in which topics are pursued single-mindedly, free from the competing demands of an orthodox curriculum. Students are encouraged to take courses, conduct independent research, or gain field or internship experience during the month.

Got to get some birthday presents done so did what sewing I could on Tuesday. I would sew awhile and rest awhile and got more done than I had expected to, for which I was grateful.

Felt a little better on Wednesday and got some more sewing done after going to have another workout on my back and ribs. I have quite a few African violets and had some to re-pot so did it Wednesday afternoon. Also started some of my little spiders from the Spider plant I have hanging in the bow window. There are enough to start a lot more, but I don't have room for them and don't know if I can get rid of the ones I have started. May try to at the What Not Sale that West Paris Grange will be having on May 9 at the West Paris Grange Hall. Just hope I will be able to be there. They will be selling food, as usual, as well as lots of other things, so come see what they have.

Let me remind everyone about the dance at West Paris Grange on May 2. Come for a good time as usual. Also, there is to be a three-part meeting at Franklin Grange on May 4, and West Paris is to bring desserts. Youth Night will be observed at West Paris Grange on May 7, so come, youth, and all, to be a part of it.

I am always glad to put news in the paper for anyone, so just give me a call if you have anything to be reported. I would appreciate it very much and gladly put it in my writing.

Myrna and husband Bernard White

Post-graduation options will be focus of guidance night April 30 at OHHS

The Guidance Department at Oxford Hills High School in South Paris will hold a Higher Education Planning Night, tomorrow, April 30, in the library, at 7 p.m., to help junior class students and their parents with the decision-making process on what to do after high school and to encourage students to consider the possibilities of higher education.

The program will include the application process and types of admission; college visitations and the interviews; choosing a college; paying for higher education; and military and ROTC options.

Prior to the evening session, the guidance staff will hold a meeting with juniors in the school auditorium.

called on us one day last week. They were on their way to visit her oldest daughter, in Berlin, N.H., and stopped in for a few minutes. Glad to see them and wish they could have stayed longer. Russell just informed me it was on April 13 that they called, but guess I didn't mention it before. We always enjoy callers and hope more of our friends will stop when going by. They would be most welcome.

Had a phonecall from an old friend yesterday and was glad to hear from her. Mary Smith called and was asking if Peggy had gotten home from Florida yet. She hasn't, as she is staying down for her granddaughter's wedding on May 9. Don't know as yet just when she will arrive home, but expect it will be soon after the wedding.

Nothing more to write about this time, I guess, so will wish everyone good health and a nice summer to enjoy.

North Paris

By EVELINE B. VATCHER

We enjoyed the beautiful Easter Day and all the beautiful flowers. It makes one glad to be alive. And we need the warm sun to warm the ground ready for planting.

This was the week that was. Eveline had a treat of new dandelions and ham and a large treat of smelts, and 10 smelts contain 448 calories, but she didn't even see one calorie and she survived.

Robert Isley, of Rome, N.Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Isley, has left for Chantute, Ill., for three weeks. He is undergoing tests for master sergeant in the Air Force.

There will be a dance May 2 at West Paris Grange hall. There will be prizes, and home-made pies of all kinds will be on the refreshment table. Let's dance! Mr. and Mrs. Jim Russell (nee Betty Stevens) are receiving congratulations on the birth of their second child, a son, Jim Bert Russell Jr., born April 8, at Maine Medical Center, Portland. He has a sister, Crystal.

Correy Bonney returned to Togus Friday for further treatment.

Callers at Lawrence's: Sherry Millett, Jimbo Coffin, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott and Jo-Anne, Arnold Coffin, Joe Vatcher, Mr. and Mrs. Odell Heath.

The North Paris Community Club has a meeting at the hall on the first Wednesday of every month from April until November. People who live in North Paris and people who have lived here in years gone by are cordially invited to attend the 7 p.m. meetings. Let's go and participate for old times sake.

Nathan Isley is a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway, where he has pneumonia for the second time this winter and has lost 25 pounds since April 1—and he didn't have any to spare. We wish him well.

Grace Sheehan is home for three weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Isley.

Eveline read with interest the "opinions" in the April 22 edition of The Citizen. It takes all kinds of people to make the world.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Spencer, and three children, Tyngsboro, Mass., came to the Reidy's trailer for the weekend. The two older children had fun on their three-wheelers, and the youngest looked on. Her parents, Joe and Norma, were also there. They brought Joe and Eveline a lovely yellow mum plant. Joe checks the trailer and turns on the heat when they come up.

A nationwide search is in progress to locate former destroyer escort sailors.

Of all the major warships produced by the navies involved in World War II, the U.S. Navy destroyer escorts were the most numerous and the most diverse in tactical deployment. ## West Paris

By MIRIAM INMAN

The Universalist Church Easter services were well attended. First the sunrise service on the deck at Ray and Mary Ann Brown's, where we could view God's creation while taking part in meaningful fellowship. The Easter bunny had brought eggs for the little ones to find. The early-risers then enjoyed a breakfast of juice, scrambled eggs, muffins, doughnuts, coffee and cocoa, prepared by Audrey Hadley, Cynthia Hadley and Frances Braden. After breakfast, the dishwashing detail had some real young help. Abby Inman pulled up something to stand on, so she and sister Audrey helped the dishwasher with the rinsing detail. Good to know there will be some young folks to take over when old ones aren't able.

The West Paris Historical Society met Monday evening with 21 members and Mandy Morse present. As planned, we went on an inspection tour of the Odd Fellows' Hall to see what needs to be done for repairs and cleaning. We are very enthusiastic about our new acquisition and hope others will be also and joining in physically and monetarily. Much needs to be done. As the saying goes, "Many hands make light work." The first cleaning bee will be on Wednesday, April 29, at 1 p.m. After the tour we returned to the society building for a potluck supper. We even had some smelts! A meeting followed. The next meeting will be on Monday, May 18, preceded by a potluck supper with Vernon and Miriam Inman the supper committee. There will be another cleaning session after the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Young, Martha and Valerie, of Auburn, N.H., were guests this past weekend of Mr. and Mrs. James Young.

Jan Braden and Eleanor Thurlow returned Monday night after being on a vacation in the Bahamas.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Melville and Dennis, of Woodland, were weekend guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Proctor.

Walter, Kim, Verne, and Walter Jr., had Easter dinner with her sister, Mary and Ray Beane and family, in Oxford. Janna Beane came back with them and stayed until Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sayward Lamb entertained for dinner on Easter Sunday their families—Jim and Diane Lamb, Kristy and Kelsey, of Oxford, and Blaine, Mandy, and Nathan Morse, of Oakland. Mandy stayed until Wednesday and Nathan is now spending the rest of the week with Grammie and Grampa.

Mrs. Ruth Cate, Leominster, Mass., was a guest of Gordon and Sally Doughty for the past weekend.

Joining in for an Eastern dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Proctor and Ivan, Jr., were Owen, Donna and Dennis Melville, Woodland; Donna, Shelley and Michelle March, of South Paris; Kay, Doreen, Benjamin, Jason, and Elizabeth Merrill, Waterford; Philip Smith, Bryant Pond, and Beryl Bonney. The Easter bunny was there and brought a basket of treats for all.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Inman entertained at a party for their daughter Audrey's 7th birthday on Thursday evening. The

West Paris Grange is holding another chemical-free dance on May 2 at the Grange Hall with Richard Felt and Co. furnishing the music.

Granite Chapter #115, O.E.S., will be having a rehearsal on May 3 at 6 p.m. at the Masonic Hall. All officers should be present.

The Firemen's Auxiliary will be meeting at the fire station meeting room on Monday evening, May 4, at 7 p.m.

The service team of the Telstar Association of Kennebec Girl Scout Council met Wednesday afternoon, April 15, at the home of the service unit manager, Diane Milligan, at Rumford Point. Other members present were Joyce Knight, field executive from Kennebec Council; Cindy Blake of Bethel; Connie Tuttle and Bernice Easter of Mexico; Linda Couture of Rumford Point; Andrea Conner of Rumford; and Gerry Donahue of West Peru.

The service team approved a trip for Troop 613 of Dixfield to Pemaquid and Wiscasset on May 9 and 10 to tour Maine Yankee and go on a short hike in the area; and also approved a trip for Troop 800 to go to the Boston Science Museum.

The service also approved a project of Troop 552 to collect food for the community of Rumford-Mexico area Food Pantry, with the possibility that the Junior Troop from Boothbay and four other troops might assist in the food drive. The troop from Boothbay got acquainted with the area Girl Scouts at the Winter Fun day this past winter. It was voted to Cindy Blake the budgeted $100 for Wider Op to help her with her trip to Savannah.

Final plans have been completed for the leaders' banquet to be held at 6 p.m. on April 29. Each troop is to send $2 to the leaders' banquet, together with a chosen name of a girl wishing to go to day camp. The money collected from each troop will be added to the Pat Burger Campership Fund—and the one name drawn from those submitted to be the recipient of the 1987 campership. One Mexico troop, #697, has already made their donation to the fund.

The next service team meeting will be held on May 27 at the home of Diane Milligan starting at 10 a.m. Each member is to bring a sandwich, and the agenda will include work on a proposed budget for the coming year.

Andrea Conner led a discussion of plans for the camporee to be held June 25, 26, and 27. Daisy Girl Scouts may attend on Friday and bring their lunches. Other program plans were discussed and it promises to be another banner camporee. A flyer about it will be sent to the area troops.

Plans for an open house were discussed, and it was felt that the first of November would be an appropriate time to have it. The cadette program will be stressed, and also the Wider Opportunity offerings. Cindy Blake will continue as older girl consultant.

Plans for the 75th Anniversary Celebration Event for Girls at the Cumberland County Fairgrounds from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. are going ahead, with all troops in this area being urged to take part. This event is for all Girl Scouts and their families. They may bring picnic lunches and refreshments will be sold on the grounds. A blood drive will also be held during the day, and volunteers to help with this day may sign up in advance with the Kennebec Council office. Troops are also invited to make and exchange "swaps" which may be exchanged during the day. Girl Scouts attending may take part in the parade with their troop flags, or with some special depiction of Girl Scouting between the years 1930-1939 (which is the time span assigned to the Telstar Association).

tion of Girl Scouting between the years 1930-1939 (which is the time span assigned to the Telstar Association).

Ms. Knight presented several other things that are upcoming this spring. Among them, the April 30 PR meeting, and the Silver and Gold Banquet on May 8. She also mentioned that there is a real need for Green Circle demonstrators; and there is a special conference on volunteerism to be held at the Blaine House on May 15 and 16. She also noted that she could be available locally on the dates of the service team meetings, either before the meetings or at some other specified time, to meet with anyone regarding Girl Scouting.

Spirit Group meets with Middle School parents

Parents of the Telstar Regional High School Spirit Group met together with the Middle School Parents Group April 14 at the Telstar library. These respective groups have been meeting on a regular basis for over a year. Each group is anxious to have new parents join its membership.

On April 14 both groups met to share and discuss common concerns, group tasks, accomplishments and future responsibilities. For example, the Telstar Middle School Group has organized several open house programs at Telstar. Presently the Telstar group is implementing a Middle School Handbook. The Spirit Group, the High School counterpart, has developed and implemented a "trial" all-school Academic Awards Assembly at the conclusion of the second quarter. "Hopefully the academic awards assembly will be an annual event after each ranking period next year," Spirit advisor Dan Hart said.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society are reminded that the next monthly meeting will be held on Thursday, May 7, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Featured during the program portion of the meeting will be a presentation by Ben B. Conant, curator of the Paris Cape Historical Society, who will speak on "Bethel-Paris Connections." The towns of Bethel and Paris have had many connections and Mr. Conant will provide some insight into this historic relationship. Anyone interested in attending this meeting is cordially urged to do so.

All students of Gould Academy and Telstar Regional High School who plan to enter this year's Dr. Moses Mason essay contest should have their work in the hands of their respective school's headmaster/principal by Friday, May 1, at 5 p.m.

The latest addition to the society's Eva Beano Research Room is a copy of William B. Jordan, Jr.'s "A History of Cape Elizabeth, Maine," which has been donated anonymously.

Anyone interested in railroads will undoubtedly be interested in the appearance of Jeff Holt's "The Grand Trunk in New England," which is now available in the Bethel Historical Society's museum store/gift shop. The book traces the evolution of the Grand Trunk from its conceptualization in the mind of Andover, Maine, native John Alfred Poore, in the 1840s, to the modern era. The 176 pages of the book include over 200 photographs (20 in color) plus over 30 posters, timetables, graphs and other illustrations. Included in the book are photos of construction gangs, passenger stations, early wood-burning locomotives and—for Bethel area residents of particular interest—several likenesses of Ed Quinn, former Bethel Historical Society president and long-time life member. Anyone interested in acquiring a copy of this remarkable book should visit the society during regular business hours (Monday-Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.) and by appointment 824-29081.

Presently, the Spirit Group is seeking approval for a new roadside billboard donated by the LeClerc Corporation. The next Parent Group meeting will be a joint session at Telstar Middle School/High School on Tuesday, May 12. "Where are all the interested parents?" wonders Mr. Hart.

MSAD #44 Directors' meeting

The board of directors of SAD #44 met in regular session on Monday evening of this week in the library at Telstar Regional High School. Prior to the meeting, members of the board had an opportunity to meet the "top ten" students of Telstar's class of 1987. Members of this select group are: Keith W. Clanton, son of Norman and Sylvia Clanton of Bethel; Kevin Bruce Powell, son of Bruce and Shirley Powell of Hanover; Glori Anne Bollo, daughter of Ernest and Nadja Bollo of Woodstock; Tracy Lynn Higgins, daughter of Carroll and Sharon Higgins of Greenwood; Jeanne Lynn Conant, daughter of Roger and Judith Kersey of Bethel; Darlene Lou Haskell, daughter of Edmund and Carol Haskell of Woodstock; Christopher Lee Dunham, son of Gilbert and Barbara Dunham of Greenwood; Lynn Seames Cobb, daughter of Raymond and Shirley Seames of Greenwood; and Christopher Stephan Bresnahan, son of Joseph and Anne Bresnahan of Bethel.

During the portion of the meeting set aside for citizen comments, Gayle Russell of Woodstock advised the directors of concerns she and other citizens had concerning the new school at Woodstock. Among these were "wavy" walls in the building's 190-foot hallway and cracks in the laminated beams in the all-purpose room. It was suggested that an independent builder be secured by SAD #44 to inspect the building prior to its acceptance by the district.

The board of directors voted to waive the making up of the two days missed during the flood on April 1 and 2. Also, Friday, May 22, will become a student day instead of a teacher workshop, and Friday, June 19, will be a teacher workshop instead of a student day.

The directors approved the appointment of Mary Morgan of Bethel as secretary for the 1987 Telstar Summer School. Mrs. Morgan is also employed by the district as secretary at Crescent Park School (a school-year position).

The board voted to cancel the regular meeting scheduled for Monday, July 13. Barring the calling of a special meeting, there will be only one meeting of the SAD #44 board that month, on Monday, July 27.

The superintendent was granted authorization to post teaching vacancies such as may exist at the elementary level and in special education. Authorization was also granted to post the extra-curricular positions for the 1987-88 school

LEONARDO SOLIS, a YMCA official from Costa Rica, spoke to the Bethel Rotary Club last week about conditions in Central America. He said Americans seem more concerned about the Nicaraguan situation than people in his own country, which borders Nicaragua. One of the smallest nations in Latin America, Costa Rica does not have an army. Mr. Solis was the guest of Rotarian Bill Clough, right, headmaster of Gould Academy. Gould is considering an exchange program with Costa Rica.

NEWS FROM BETHEL AREA

Health Center

The time has come for physical exams for those children who will be going to camp this summer. Ten years ago a "quickie" physical every year was common. However, studies by the American Academy of Family Physicians and the American Academy of Pediatrics indicate that a thorough physical every two years for the healthy child over six years old is all that is necessary and that routine annual examinations on the healthy child are proving to be a waste of time and money.

However, because many camp and athletic programs still require some type of physical exam within a year, the Health Center will provide a brief screening physical for our regular patients who have had a complete examination within the last two years. The completion of a questionnaire asking for a health history update since the last complete exam is required of the parent or guardian.

A screening physical consists of a very brief examination of the child for major abnormalities and includes a blood pressure, vision test, height, weight, tetanus booster, if necessary, and any laboratory tests required by the camp or school.

A complete physical involves all of the above plus an in-depth health history covering physical and mental development, any illnesses, allergies, and injuries requiring medical attention, tetanus booster and urinalysis and blood test for anemia.

Monday: Liver with onion gravy, over brown potatoes, Brussel sprouts, bread, mixed fruit. Tuesday: Baked turkey supreme, spinach, garden salad, roll, cran-applesauce. Thursday: Veal parmesan with spaghetti, garden salad, garlic salad, peaches.
